Smash at Crossing

An accident occurred at the east crossing yesterday, when one of McKenzie's drays was smashed to pieces.

It appears that the driver, Hugo Carlson, was crossing the track with a load of coal, when the mixed local was backed into the dray. Fortunately the horses broke away soon after the dray
was struck, and the driver jumped for safety, so no loss of life was entailed.

As a result of the collision,
McKenzie is now minus a dray.

After pushing the dray about forty yards, the caboose jumped the track and it was only after several hours work that the train was able to proceed west.

A NAME WANTED.

We often write "English Navy" or "English Government" when we mean the navy or the government of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland. Now and then we are reproved for it by some subject of King George who is not English. Probably the adjective can be disposed of adequately enough by writing British; but there is no suitable noun by which to express the political unit composed of England, Wales, Scotland and Ireland.

The clumsy official title adopted in 1801 is impossible. The bigger name, United Kingdom, is current enough in statistical circles; but, no doubt many readers would have to think a minute before they knew what it meant. "Great Britain" clearly excludes Ireland, and there is little enough sanction for "Britain."

Germany, of course, stands ready to apply a simple remedy by officially changing the name to Kaiserland; but there are objections to that.

Meantime we take this method of making a general disclaimer of any intention to disparage Ireland, Scotland or Wales when we use the name of the senior partner to designate the whole firm.—S.E.P.

In Toronto they are still religiously looking under the bed every night to see that no German invader lurks there.

Letter from "Mac." HOW ARE

Letter to His Mother at Saskatoon

YOUR EYES?

In a bright and cheery letter to his mother, Mrs. M. McDonald, 409 Twenty-ninth Street, W. Saskatoon, "Mac" gives an account of life at Salisbury Plain, which indicates clearly that he is at least is contented. The letter is as follows:

Salisbury Plain,
Nov. 3rd, 1914.

"Dear Mother,

"We are still in the same camp and are having a pretty good time. We will be here for two or three months more, so you do not need to worry any."

"Over here all the young men are in the army, four, five and six out of one family, so you are not nearly so badly off as they are, as you have still three boys left. We may never see the war at all, for there are lots of English regular soldiers to go before us."

"It rains every day in this country. Of course this is the winter season. It never freezes not even at night."

"We are all under canvas, eight in a tent. They give us lots of blankets and straw ticks so we are nice and comfortable. There are floors in the tents, and although it is muddy outside, we are nice and dry inside."

"The King is coming to review us tomorrow, also the Queen. Lord Roberts was here a few days ago."

"We had four days' leave shortly after we landed, and a bunch of us went up to London."

"We had a dandy time and saw lots of things well worth seeing. Being soldiers, we got nearly everything for half price and lots of pieces they would not take anything. Everybody over here certainly used us white."

"If you have a pair or two of heavy woollen socks you can send them over by next but

A Letter from Russia

Written to "Jimmy" Elin

Mr. James Elin,
Oyen, Alberta, Canada

Dear Brother:-

I can not send you any Russian newspapers, owing to the strict censorship, no paper is allowed to leave the country. Our news of the war is very official. We are informed of all our and also of our Allies' victories and defeats. Some of the telegrams run as follows:- We have captured such and such a town, defeated a certain Turkish Army corps, and have taken so many prisoners. We also read that Canada had contributed 5 million sacks of flour to England.

A Letter to the Editor

The News accepts no responsibility for the opinions of correspondents published as communications to the Editor.

Excel, Alberta
Nov. 30th, 1914

The Editor, Oyen News,
Dear Sir:-

I shall feel obliged if you will publish the following suggestions (for the consideration of the ratepayers of Rural Municipality of Cereal No. 212 in the coming election) in the next issue of your esteemed paper.

(1) That (on account of the present financial distress) all salaries of municipal officers and employees should be reduced fifty percent. (2) That the Financial Statement should be itemized more fully, and state the amount of taxes received by each separate school district, also amount advanced to each district above taxes collected, also that a full financial statement should be mailed to all ratepayers at the end of the year and not for only ten (10) months as at present. (3) That the Council for the coming year (1915) be instructed by the ratepayers to eliminate all road work for the coming season, as though the Municipal law states that at least one quarter of the taxes should be expended on road work, the circumstances are such, that the ratepayers should be entitled to eliminate same completely for the coming year to reduce rate of taxes as much as much as possible.

(4) On account of the extremely dirty grain being distributed by the local elevators for feed; we should either have a close heard law, (i.e. make all farmers and owners of stock keep same on their own land both day and night) under severe penalty for infraction of same, otherwise eliminate all weed inspection for the coming year, as under existing conditions it will be impossible for settlers to keep their fields clean, after the distribution of noxious weeds by stock running at large all fall and winter.

(Lastly) That general meetings of the municipality for the future be called for 10 a. m. instead of 1 p. m. as at present, as the days being very short at this time of year, makes it impossible for the ratepayers to discuss the year work satisfactorily in so short a time.

Thanking you in advance for your courtesy.

Yours truly,
Ratepayer.

Though everything is as usual in the city, we daily get thousands of wounded and prisoners; there have erected many field hospitals, where the wounded are being cared for. The prisoners and the wounded are well treated, money, fruit and cigarettes being given to them. Some of the German and Austrian prisoners are almost starved when brought from the front, they also declared that their food supplies were small and that they had eaten horse flesh. The patriotic funds are reaching enormous sums.

The general prohibition of Volka, makes our enemy feel more awake towards the armies of Kaiser Bill and Franz-Joseph, and Russia safer from her enemies.

Your brother,
